ESGO at war with the Cervical Cancer

Cervical Cancer Globally

WHO Director-General calls for all countries to take action to help end the suffering caused by cervical cancer 19th May 2018: Cervical cancer is one of the most preventable and treatable forms of cancer as long as it is prevented with HPV vaccination, detected early, and managed effectively. Prevention and early treatment are highly cost-effective. Worldwide however, cervical cancer remains one of the gravest threats to women's lives, and globally, one woman dies of cervical cancer every two minutes. This suffering is unacceptable, and cannot continue. In recognition of this, WHO Director-General, Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus today made a global call for action towards the elimination of cervical cancer.

THE ARCHITECTURE TO ELIMINATE CERVICAL CANCER:

VISION: A world without cervical cancer

THRESHOLD: All countries to reach < 4 cases 100,000 women-years

2030 CONTROL TARGETS

90%

of girls fully vaccinated
with HPV vaccine by 15
years of age

70%

of women screened with an high precision test at 35
and 45 years of age

90%

of women identified with cervical disease receive treatment and care

SDG 2030: Target 3.4 – 30% reduction in mortality from cervical cancer

The 2030 targets and elimination threshold are subject to revision depending on the outcomes of the modeling and the WHO approval process
